FORTY YEARS BEFORE THE PUBLIC.

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

Hepatitis or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder-blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder; and is sometimes mistaken for a rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them A FAIR TRIAL.

For all Bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist on your druggist or storekeeper giving you the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all respectable druggists and country storekeepers generally.

To those wishing to give DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS a trial, we will mail post paid to any part of the United States, one box of Pills for twenty-five cents.

THE FIRST GUN.

Chicago fires the first gun of the campaign, in the shape of an overwhelming Republican victory. At the special election for Mayor held in that city yesterday, the Republican candidate, Monroe Heath, carried seventeen of the eighteen wards, beating the Democratic nominee to the tune of 11,613, getting away with the bummers' candidate to the extent of 15,798, and receiving a majority of 8,250 over both his opponents. In the language of the day, Mr. Heath is a very "unanimous" man.

THE Brooklyn Argus, a Democratic paper, has this to say of Tilden, since the nomination "If there was ever a machine nomination for president of the United States, it is the present one. The text for antagonizing Mr. Tilden will be personal insincerity to pledges of reform, inconsistency on the money question, an unsatisfactory railroad record and his implication with corrupt men. None of these are very hopeful texts upon which to bid for Republican votes, which alone can elect any candidate." This is putting the whole matter in a nut-shell. These texts will be used from now till November with such effect as will astonish the admirers of Slippery Sam.

RECENTLY a man by the name of Phillip A. Madan arrived in New York over the New York & New Haven railroad, and gave the checks for his baggage, while in the train, to the agent of the New Transfer Company, at the same time receiving a receipt on which was printed a clause whereby the company limited its liability to $100 for loss of baggage, unless special contract was made to the contrary. It was then dark, and Mr. Madan put the check in his pocket without looking at it. The baggage was stolen, and Mr. Madan sued for $415. On the trial, the company set up the receipt as a binding contract, limiting their liability to $100. The Judge charged the jury that it was for them to determine whether Mr. Madan could see enough of the paper to indicate that it was a contract and not a receipt, and the jury gave Mr. Madan $415.

BOSTON, July 12—The Herald publishes an interview with Josiah Caldwell, at London, in which he maintains the genuineness of his dispatches to the investigating committee; also the affidavit of Caldwell, denying any connection of Blaine with the sale of seventy-five bonds to Thomas A. Scott.

A VICTIM OF SOUTHERN HATE.

In our news columns yesterday we gave the concluding portion of an address delivered in Indianapolis, on Monday, at the funeral of Mrs. Helen E. Willis, sister of Senator Twichell, of Louisiana. The Indianapolis Journal of yesterday gives the address in full, and just at this time it is so opportune that we make no apology for giving that portion of it not contained in our despatches of yesterday. Dr. Bayliss said:

We are standing to day at the culmination of a tragic personal history It is not often, in times of peace, that a funeral service brings men face to face with facts at once so melancholy and appalling And I feel that, though we were strangers personally to her whose death we contemplate, as we are to the solitary mourner who follows her to the burial, there are in the case circumstances which will interest all, and will fully justify a departure, in some measure, from the usual form of funeral addresses.

Mrs. Helen E. Willis was a native of Townsend, Vt., was thirty-one years of age, and a sister of Marshall H. Twichell, who is here to day, the only relative who is permitted to be present on this sad occasion. She was making her way from the inhospitable neighborhood in Louisiana, to her native place in New England. She stopped here to rest, and if possible to recuperate. But she had suffered too much to rally, and after a few days of delay death came yesterday morning, and with a grateful heart to those who have so kindly ministered to her during her brief stay in this strange city, she fell asleep, and is at rest.

At the close of the war Captain Twichell, brother of the deceased, was on General Sheridan's staff, and was assigned to duty in the Red River country, in Louisiana, where he became acquainted with the lady who afterwards became his wife. He bought land and settled there, determining to become a citizen and devote himself to the country of his adoption. To this end, he built saw mills and grist mills, opened stores, did what could be done to establish schools, and in every possible way has labored earnestly to promote the prosperity of the country about him.

His energy and economy lead to business success, and his brother and three sisters, with their husbands, at length joined him in his southern home His mother also became a resident there and thus his entire family, and all his interests, were transferred and established permanently, as was supposed, in Louisiana.

In 1874 there were various riots in the parishes adjoining that in which these families lived. Senator Twitchell was himself absent in New Orleans, and a brother-in-law named King was sick, it was thought, unto death. As disturbances continued in the surrounding country, a number of Democrats came to those who were well and at home and said to them, "We are sure that you are here as permanent residents, and we are satisfied with you and your principles. But some of your neighbors are not so satisfied, and there will perhaps be danger to you unless you put yourselves under our protection; but if you will put yourselves into our hands, we will vouch for you to the rioters and you shall be protected."

After some conversation Homer Twitchell and the two brothers-in-law concluded, with some other Northern men in the neighborhood, to accept the offered protection of their Democratic neighbors, and accordingly put themselves under their protection.

They were led away into an adjoining parish, far enough to obstruct the process of legal prosecution, and then, with a treachery of which we have supposed none but Indians to be capable, their protectors turned them over to the mob, and Homer Twitchell and two brothers-in-law were murdered in cold blood. It seems incredible—it is almost too diabolical to be believed.—Even after all we have heard of Fort Pillow and Andersonville and Belle Isle, this is so horrible as to make us hesitate before believing it. We were in the heat of war when the Fort Pillow massacre was perpetrated, Andersonville was the offspring of passion and fury, but this was calm enough to be simply malevolent, and horrible enough to be fiendish.

One of those who fell in that treacherous massacre of August 31, 1874, was Mr. Monroe Willis, husband of her whose weary heart at last stands still; and how much of the disaster of yesterday is traceable to the catastrophe of 1874 it is impossible for any human being to tell.

Still the remnants of the broken, persecuted household remained in the South. There was their property, and there were the graves of their beloved dead. And so, in spite of the malice which had given them such startling proofs of its fierceness and unscrupulousness, they still trusted to their own conscious rectitude and their peaceful spirit to protect them.

But, alas! there is a diabolism in parts of the South which no goodness can propitiate, and a malevolence which no gentleness can subdue. The fact is beyond question.

In May last Mrs. Willis was broken in health by her great suffering, and Mr. Twitchell and Mr. King, who were absent in New Orleans, were sent for. They started immediately, and, as they were crossing Red river in a small boat, and approaching to within four or five yards of the shore a horseman appeared on the bank, and, unbuttoning his large coat, took from under it a Henry repeating rifle, from which he discharged fifteen shots at the men in the boat. Mr. King was instantly killed. Mr. Twitchell was wounded in one leg and in both arms, and was left by the bandit for dead. After the assassin was gone, however, the faithful colored boatman, who was himself wounded, lifted the mutilated man into the boat again, out of which he had sprung for safety, and conveyed him to Springville, where the army surgeon was compelled to amputate both arms, but was able to save the wounded leg.

The faithful sister, smitten by shock after shock, and almost prostrate as the result of them, still came to her brother's side, and waited and watched. The surgeon also watched, and night after night sat with a rifle on his knee, ready to defend his patient from the midnight assault of some chivalrous Southron.

At length the brother and sister were able to start for the North, being furnished a part of the way with a military escort. As soon as they reached a region of safety, the fearful nervous tension by which Mrs. Willis had kept up gave way, and she rapidly approached her end.

MILITARY OPPRESSION.

The Secretary of War having sent to the House a report of the number of soldiers stationed in the various States of the Union, it is a matter of interest to notice just how much reason for the howl of the confederates about military oppression in the South, as according to the figures there is in New York more military oppression than in Alabama—four times as much, for there are four times as many soldiers there There is more military oppression in Michigan than in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky or Arkansas, and Kansas suffers more from "the government's hirelings" than any other state save New York and Texas. The fact is, there are fewer soldiers in the South now than there have been at any time from 1850 to 1860 The following is the list:

Northern States—Maine 42, Massachusetts 138, Rhode Island 251, Connecticut 100, New York 847, Maryland 241, Michigan 347, Kansas 815. Total in eight Northern states, 2,817.

Southern States—Virginia 490, North Carolina 235, South Carolina 538, Georgia 393, Florida 280, Alabama 214, Mississippi 461, Louisiana 506, Tennessee 200, Kentucky 119, Arkansas 78. Total in eleven Southern states, 3,384.

This does not include Texas, where there are over 3,000 troops on the Rio Grande border and calls for more.

The eight Northern States average 352 soldiers to a state, and the eleven Southern States 303. The degree of military oppression is, therefore to the military oppression in the South as 352 is to 303. Is it not time for the North to howl?

THE New York Sun gushes thus on the Centennial

"As for ourselves, besides winning our independence, we have made the hundred years memorable by abolishing slavery, by determining that there is no right to secession from the Federal government and by enfranchising the negroes. These are the chief events of the one hundred years."

The Sun fails to note a feature of this centennial year—a paper that can talk thus glibly of the three great events of the past century is now co-operating with the Democratic party, which upheld slavery, maintained the right of secession and has never submitted very gracefully to the law enfranchising the negroes. The Sun begins the second century of our existence as a nation in full sympathy with the reactionary party which seeks to undo the good work we have accomplished so far, and yet the Sun claims to be a great newspaper. It is simply the paid organ of Tilden and company, whose barrel of money has subsidized all the purchasable papers in the country.—St. Louis Journal.

SIOUX CITY, July 12.—The Indians along the upper Missouri, who had received an account of Custer's fight through some hostiles who took part in it, say Custer shot three Indians with his pistol, and killed three others with his sabre, when he fell, shot through the head by Rain-in-the-face, a chief whom Custer had forcibly arrested some time ago for murder. The Indians lost seventy killed, among them many noted chiefs. The fight was hand to hand. The Indians say they did not fear the pistols so much as they did the sabres. They are nearly out of ammunition and will not fight again until they get a supply from the agencies.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Though news was expected to day, at General Sheridan's headquarters, nothing has yet been heard.

Specials from Sioux City, say the Indians arriving from their battle with Custer, give accounts of barbarous treatment of bodies of deceased soldiers. "Rain in the face" cut the heart from Custer's dead body, put it on a pole, and a war dance was held around it. The Indians were jubilant, boastful and sanguine, and will want better terms on account of success.

CHEYENNE, July 12.—Advices from the North Platte state that Major Walker, just in from Braidswood, reports the Indians in large numbers in camp on the head waters of the Dismal, forty miles from that place.

No further news from Crook, and no uneasiness is felt at Fetterman for his safety.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The municipal election for Mayor to-day, resulted in the election of Monroe Heath, by the following vote: Total vote, 30,072; Heath over McGrath, 15,798; Heath over Kimball, 11,613; Heath over both, 8,250. Heath carried seventeen out of eighteen wards. The Tribune claims this is a straight out republican victory.

WASHINGTON, July 12—The senate confirmed James N. Tyner, postmaster general.

James S. Wilson, treasurer of the District, who left a few weeks ago, is defaulter to the amount of $6,000, secured by responsible bondsmen.

The officers of the seventh cavalry have been ordered to join the regiment immediately.

The house has passed the bill appropriating $200,000 for construction of two military posts or depots in the Sioux country, in accordance with the recommendations of Generals Sheridan, Terry and Custer.

The president has approved the following acts of congress: Act in relation to redemption of unused stamps; an act authorizing the commissioner of Indian affairs to purchase supplies for the Indian bureau in the open market; an act to amend certain sections of the revised statutes, providing penalty for mailing obscene books and other matters therein contained; and prohibiting lottery circulars passing through the mails; an act making an appropriation for service of the post-office department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1877, and for other purposes; an act to amend section 5,846 of the revised statutes of the United States, providing for imprisonment and transfer of United States prisoners, and an act to exempt vessels engaged in navigating the Mississippi river and its tributaries, above the port of New Orleans, from entrance and clearances.

The senate committee on appropriations amended the river and harbor bill, by striking out numerous cities and adding others. They had $35,000 for improvement of the Missouri river above the mouth of the Yellowstone; $18,000 for removal of the bar in the Mississippi river, opposite Dubuque. Appropriations are increased, including that for the Rock Island rapids, Mississippi river, from $20,000 to $50,000.

It is reported, to-night, that the president will, to-morrow, request the removal of four employes of the treasury, all of whom were close personal friends of Secretary Bristow, and who occupy responsible positions in the department. Among the names more prominently mentioned in connection with the appointment of internal revenue commissioner, is that of ex-Congressman Kelogg of Connecticut.

It is not likely Mr. Pratt will give much attention to official Business between now and the date at which his resignation takes effect, and Mr. Rogers will continue in the performance of the duties of the office. Strong influences will be brought to bear to secure the commissionership for Rogers.

The case of Ottoman, for alleged complicity in the robbery of the money package from the United States treasury, came up, to-day, before Judge Humphreys, on a motion of the government and an order to sell defendant's property. Defendant made a motion to quash the attachment on the ground that the government had not, nor could not, give a bond such as is required from individuals. Judge Humphreys granted the latter motion.

Delegates to the Israelite convention, accompanied by many ladies, visited President Grant, at the White House. Mr. Simon Wolf introduced them as citizens of the United States, engaged in the good cause of education, a cause in which the president was known to take the greatest interest. The president made a few remarks, in reply, complimenting them and wishing success to their undertaking.

An unusually large number of congressmen are sick from heat, several dangerously.

The conference committee on the sundry civil bill, have agreed on all but twenty-one of the two hundred and forty-four points of difference.

The sub-committee on St. Louis whisky frauds, examined Juryman Fox, of St. Louis, to-day, as to his conversation with the president when he came here in March last, after the Babcock suit. Witness said it was brief and concerned the action of Henderson and Dyer during the Avery trial. Witness told the president Dyer was as bad as Henderson in the course toward the president. Dyer came before the grand jury and was very forward about telling what he knew, and volunteered so much information the witness shocked him, and insisted he be sworn if he was going to make such statements. The President did not say much about the matter, but listened to witness, who did most of the talking.

At an informal caucus of the Democratic Congressmen, yesterday, held to discuss the dead-lock on the appropriation bills, a resolution was offered to demand of Mr. Randall a policy calculated to bring about an agreement between the two Houses, otherwise the protesting Democrats will cast their votes against Randall and unite with the minority in securing an early passage of the appropriation bills.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A violent storm of wind and rain, attended by thunder and lightning, visited this section, last evening. The rain was very beneficial, and excepting the shower in the afternoon, was the first in twenty days. The lightning caused some damage. The storm gave the people relief from a period of intense heat, which was causing alarm by the daily increasing number of sudden deaths.

PEKIN, July 12.—A terrible and sad accident occurred about five miles southeast of this city yesterday afternoon We get the following particulars from the attendant surgeon, which are the facts as far as could be obtained at a late hour last night: A German by the name of Henri Bahn was engaged cutting grain with a reaper, and had stopped and left his team temporarily, when his daughter, twelve years of age, came up in front of the sickle which had not been thrown out of gear, with water for the hands. The horses suddenly became frightened and ran away, the machine striking and throwing the girl down, cutting off her left arm, her left ear, a frightful gash on her right leg, a rib fractured, besides being internally injured. It is scarcely possible for her to survive.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A grand Republican ratification meeting was held to-night in Cooper Union Hall. E. W Houghton, Chairman, delivered an eloquent address. The meeting was enthusiastic, and speeches were made in English and German. A large number of Vice Presidents were on the platform, including Independent Reformers.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE IN Agony.

Physicians Cornered

I suppose there is not in the whole of a physician's experience anything in human suffering which calls forth his sympathy and pity, to such an extent, as to witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal suffering from the fearful disease of Rheumatism. Heretofore there has been considerable diversity of opinion among medical men as to the true character of this disease, some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disorder, but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will be better satisfied and rejoice more than the conscientious physician, who has found out that a true cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered The following testimony from a Boston business man cannot fail to satisfy all that the

is a wonderful Medical Discovery

Home Testimony.

BOSTON, Jan. 1st, 1875.

PROF. ALPHONSE HILLE:
Dear Sir—I desire to state that for the past three years I have been troubled greatly troubled with rheumatic pains; so severe was the attack that I was compelled to remain in bed a helpless sufferer, and this is the most hurried season of my business too. A friend brought me two bottles of your valuable medicine, the DIAMOND RHEUMATIC Cure, and with pleasure I state that those two bottles affected a permanent cure upon me. Six months have since passed, and no return of this terrible disease has troubled me; I have on various occasions since recommended the DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE to several of my afflicted neighbors, and always with a uniform result—a certain and perfect cure in each case. I am willing to be interviewed and verbally satisfy any fellow sufferer of the truth of this statement.
Yours respectfully,
P. SHEEAN, Merchant Tailor,
83 Sudbury Street.

The discoverer of this medicine has walked the aisles of the hospitals of London and Paris for the last twenty years, making Rheumatism a specialty, and the prescription from which this remedy is compounded is all he ever used in the treatment of this disease. For the past year it has been used with perfect success and satisfaction in the hospitals of Montreal, and is recommended by the very best practitioners in that city as a safe, speedy and positive cure of either gout or rheumatism.

In simple cases sometimes one or two doses suffice. In most chronic cases it is sure to give way by the use of four or five bottles.

This medicine is for sale by all Druggists throughout the United States and Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock, ask him to send for it to

A number of large families of geese are seen about the street daily They have no trouble in finding plenty of ponds in which to swim.

We learn that quite a quantity of grass was cut on Saturday and Monday, which is nearly spoiled by the wet weather which has prevailed since

Put in-Bay Excursion.—Passengers for this excursion leave in connection with the regular trains going east over the T, W & W Railway to-day, to-morrow and next day, and those who leave here at noon can take a sleeping car at night and remain in it after the arrival of the train at Toledo until breakfast time in the morning, when they will be awakened in time to take the boat for Put-in-Bay

The Tramp Nuisance.—Our exchanges are full of accounts of robberies, thefts and other depredations committed by tramps, from which it seems that the nuisance is not peculiar to any locality, or confined to cities and large towns.—The fellows who do this kind of work strike out into the farming communities, engage themselves to work, and stay until they can get their hands on something worth stealing, when they gobble it and leave. In view of the large number of these marauders now prowling about the country it becomes everybody to be cautious as to who they admit in to their dwellings.

No August Term of Court.—A petition has been circulated among, and generally signed by the attorneys of the Macon county bar, addressed to his Honor, Judge Smith, asking that the August term of court be waived, as the public interest will not suffer in consequence. It is quite probable that the Judge will accede to the general wish of the bar in this matter, and dispense with the term in question, unless an emergency may arise rendering it necessary to convene the court.

Keep Up Good Courage.—The feeling of discouragement which has come over farmers on account of the continued wet weather, has a depressing effect upon every branch of trade. Many seem to have settled down upon the conclusion that there will be but very little corn raised, and present indications are that the abundant hay crop if gathered at all will be in a very bad condition. A farmer remarked yesterday that this was the third year that his crops had been nearly ruined and that he could stand it no longer, and was bound to sell and get out of the country as soon as possible These feelings, though not to be wondered at just at this time, should not be allowed to get the better of our farmer friends Goods crops have been raised in Macon county as a general thing, and will be raised here again Our people have not forgotten the terrible grasshopper devastation in Kansas which prevailed two years ago, and how many of the people under their discouragements almost gave away their lands and hurried back east. This year upon those very farms, the finest wheat crops ever seen, have been harvested, and their occupants are coining wealth, and we have no doubt that a similar experience will come to the people of this county. Notwithstanding the discouraging outlook of to-day, we are far from believing that our crops are to be a failure even this year. Large fields of corn will ripen, and other crops gathered in sufficient quantities to save our farmers from heavy loss. Let everybody keep up spirit and hope, and all will come out right in the end.

Cremation.—Some housewives are puzzled to know what to do with the rubbish which accumulates in connection with cooking—such as potato pearlings, green corn, husks and cobs, and various other things that must be disposed of in some way. The common custom is where there is no cow or pig about the premises to throw all such stuff into the back yard or alley, where it decays and often becomes a source of sickness. Now the right way to deal with all such accumulations is to put them in the stove as fast as they are produced, and reduce them to ashes.—This disposes of them at once, and in a manner that effectually puts them out of the way. All scraps of meats should be disposed of in the same way. By adopting this plan the premises are kept clear of what would otherwise become a nuisance and an eye-sore to people who desire to keep their places neat and clean.

A Family Row.—A few nights since "Peto" Sells got on a bender, and gave his wife a lively rattle in the way of a chastisement. Not content with that he hunted up a former wife from whom he was divorced a few months ago, and gave her a little experience in the same line. The divorced wife swore out a warrant for his arrest, and the trial was set for yesterday, but as the complaining witness did not appear the arrest was not made, and the thing was still hanging fire when last night the trio left town. Whether they went in company or not is not known, but it is certain that they have all gone. It may be that they have emigrated to some locality for the purpose of starting a colony.

Attempted Suicide.—We learn that yesterday afternoon a man by the name of Cherry, living in the northeast part of town, hung himself in his stable, where he was found by his wife, just in time to save his life by cutting the strap or rope by which he was suspended. Mr. Cherry follows teaming for a living, and is well know to many of our readers

Body Found.—The body of young Devine, who was drowned on Sunday last, was found yesterday evening. It had floated down about a hundred yards from where the boy was last seen to go under, and lodged among some brush at a point where the water was shallow, and the slight fall of the water yesterday left the body in sight, where it was discovered by a brother of the deceased. The body, which was considerably decomposed, was left in the water until this morning, when it was taken out by Coroner Aungst and taken to the Catholic cemetery west of town for interment.

PERSONAL MENTION.

We received a call this morning from Mr. M. Patterson, who has just returned from a trip to Texas. He visited, during his absence, Sherman, Dallas, Denison and other points. He is well pleased with the country, especially with the cities. Dallas has about fifteen thousand people, and there is such a rush of business in the streets that policemen are stationed at all the principal crossings to prevent a blockade.

Mr. George Crosthwaite, formerly of this city arrived last night from Kansas He will return west with his family next week, and expects to make Kansas his future home. He says the wheat and other crops are splendid, and farmers are in a prosperous condition.

THE St. Paul Pioneer-Press and Tribune relates that the Indians of that city have some mode of communication as difficult of explanation as the grape vine telegraph by which the negroes of the South heard the news in advance of everybody else. On Wednesday, at midnight, we had the first news of Custer's defeat, but we are informed by the best authority that during the day several Indians loafing about the stores in this city, made anxious inquiries if such news had been received, and voluntarily stated the substance of what came fifteen hours later by telegraph. Soon after the Indians made themselves scarce, fearing that excited public sentiment would make of them an expiatory sacrifice for the Custer disaster.

MANY people have the idea that Custer was a rough, swaggering, swearing, drunken trooper. He was just the opposite. He was as dainty a beau in ladies' society and as entertaining a guest at a dinner table as one often sees. For years he has never drank a drop, even the lightest wines. He used to in the earlier years of the war, but to his wife's sweet influence he surrendered the habit, and became not only temperate himself, but an apostle of temperance. He never swore, nor would he allow an oath to be uttered in his presence. I have heard him rebuke his officers many a time for swearing, and for one of his soldiers to utter an oath in his hearing was the grossest sort of insubordination. Another anomaly was that he never used tobacco in any form.—Washington Letter.

A bottle costing 25c., 50c. or $1 00, has often saved the life of a human being, and restored to life and usefulness many a valuable horse.

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS AND POSTMASTERS,

Containing also conditions to be incorporated in the contracts to the extent the Department may deem proper

The POSTMASTER GENERAL warns bidders and their sureties to acquaint themselves fully with the laws of Congress relating to contracts for the carrying of the mails, (the important provisions of which are cited herein,) and also to familiarize themselves with the instructions and forms herein furnished, before they shall assume any liabilities as such bidders or sureties and to prevent misapprehension or cause of complaint hereafter

POSTMASTERS are required to make themselves familiar with the laws and these instructions that they may be able to inform and direct others

1 Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails

2. On routes where the mode of conveyance admits it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags locks and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge

3 "Way bills or receipts, prepared by postmasters or other agents of the Department, will accompany the mails, specifying the number and destination of the several bags, to be examined by the postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of bags and pouches

4 No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions, if the failure be occasioned by the fault of the contractor or carrier, three times the pay of the trip will be deducted For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture For repeated delinquencies of the kind herein specified, enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof and the importance of the mail, may be made

5 For leaving behind or throwing off the mails, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being concerned in setting up or running an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted

6 Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons, for failing to arrive in contract time, for neglecting to take the mail from, or deliver it into, a post office, for suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed, or lost, and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running, a coach, car, or steamboat on a route

7 The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract, for violating the post office laws, or disobeying the instructions of the Department, for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department to do so, for running an express as aforesaid, or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail

8. The Postmaster General may order an increase of service on a route by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay He may change schedules of departures and arrivals in all cases, and particularly to make them conform to connections with railroads, without increase of pay, provided the running time be not abridged. The Postmaster General may also discontinue or curtail the service, in whole or in part, in order to place on the route superior service, or whenever the public interests, in his judgment, shall require such discontinuance or curtailment. for any other cause, he allowing, as full indemnity to contractor, one month's extra pay on the amount of service dispensed with, and a pro rata compensation for the amount of service retained and continued.

9 Payments will be made by collections from or drafts on postmasters or otherwise, after the expiration of each quarter—say in November, February, May and August provided that required evidence of service has been received

10 The distances given are believed to be substantially correct, but no increased pay will be allowed should they be greater than advertised, if the points to be supplied are correctly stated Bidders must inform themselves on this point, and also in reference to the weight of the mail, the condition of hills, roads, streams, &c, and all toll bridges, turnpikes, plank roads, ferries, or obstructions of any kind by which expense may be incurred No claim for additional pay based on such ground can be considered nor for alleged mistakes or misapprehension as to the degree of service, nor for bridges destroyed, ferries discontinued, or other obstructions causing or increasing distance or expense occurring during the contract term Offices established after this advertisement is issued, and also during the contract term, are to be visited without extra pay if the distance be not increased

11 Bidders are cautioned to mail their proposals in time to reach the Department by the day and hour named in the advertisement, as bids received after that time will not be considered in competition with bids of reasonable amount received in time Neither can bids be considered which are without the bond, oath, and certificate required by section 245 act of June 23, 1874

12 Bidders should first propose for service strictly according to the advertisement, and then, if they desire, separately for different service and if the regular bid be the lowest offered for the advertised service, the other propositions may be considered

13 There should be but one route bid for in a proposal Consolidated or combination bids ("proposing one sum for two or more routes") cannot be considered

14 The route, the service, the yearly pay, the name and residence of the bidder, (that is, his usual post office address,) and the name of each member of a firm where a company offers, should be distinctly stated

15 Bidders are requested to use, as far as practicable, the printed proposals furnished by the Department, to write out in full the sum of their bids, and to retain copies of them

Bids altered in the route the service, the yearly pay, or the name of the bidder, by erasures or interlineations, should not be submitted and if so submitted will not be considered in awarding the contracts No withdrawal of a bid will be allowed unless the withdrawal is received twenty four hours previous to the time fixed for opening the proposals

16 In case of failure of the accepted bidder to execute a contract, or of the abandonment of service during the contract term, the service will be re advertised and re let at the expense of the failing bidder or contractor, and any accepted bidder who shall wrongfully refuse or fail to enter into contract in due form, and to perform the service described in his proposal, may be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, be fined and imprisoned therefor

17. The Postmaster General reserves the right to reject any bid which may be deemed extravagant and also to disregard the bids of failing contractors and bidders

No contract for carrying the mail shall be made with any person who has entered, or proposed to enter, into any combination to prevent the making of any bid for carrying the mail, or who has made any agreement, or given or performed or promised to give or perform, any consideration whatever to induce any other person not to bid for any such contract

No bidder for carrying the mails shall be released from his obligation under his bid or proposal, notwithstanding an award made to a lower bidder, until a contract for the designated service shall have been duly executed by such lower bidder and his sureties, and accepted, and the service entered upon by the contractor to the satisfaction of the Postmaster General

By regulation of the Department, no carrier can be employed who is under sixteen years of age, and no bidder will be accepted who is under twenty one years of age, or who is a married woman

18 The bid should be sealed, superscribed "Mail Proposals, State of Illinois," addressed "Second Assistant Postmaster General Contract Office

19 Every proposal must be accompanied by a bond with two or more sureties approved by a postmaster, and in cases where the amount of the bond exceeds five thousand dollars ($5 000) by a postmaster of the first, second, or third class Bids for service, the pay for which at the time of advertisement exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000,) must be accompanied by a certified check, or draft, payable to the order of the Postmaster General, on some solvent national bank, of not less than five per centum on the amount of the annual pay on such route, and in case of new or modified service, not less than five per centum of the amount of the bond accompanying the bid, if the amount of said bond exceeds ($5,000) five thousand dollars.

The amount of bond required with bids, and the present pay when it exceeds ($5,000) five thousand dollars, are stated in the advertisement under the appropriate route

Sureties on the bond of a bidder must take an oath before an officer qualified to administer oaths that they are the owners of real estate worth, in the aggregate, a sum double the amount of said bond, over and above all debts due and owing by them, and all judgments mortgages and executions against them, after allowing all exemptions of every character whatever

20 All checks deposited with bids will be held until contract is executed and the service commenced by the accepted bidder Checks will then be returned by mail, on the written request of the bidder, or delivered to any one on his order

21 The contracts are to be executed and returned to the Department by or before the 20th day of September, 1876, otherwise the accepted bidder will be considered as having failed, and the Postmaster General may proceed to contract for the service with other parties, according to law

Assignment of contracts, or of interest in contracts, are forbidden by law, and consequently cannot be allowed Neither can bids, or interest in bids, be transferred or assigned to other parties Bidders will therefore take notice that they will be expected to perform the service awarded to them through the whole contract term

22 Section 249 of the act of June 8, 1872, provides that contracts for the transportation of the mail shall be "awarded to the lowest bidder tendering sufficient guarantees for faithful performance, without other reference to the mode of such transportation than may be necessary to provide for the due celerity, certainty, and security thereof" Under this law bids that propose to transport the mails with "celerity, certainty, and security," having been decided to be the only legal bids, are construed as providing for the entire mail, however large, and whatever may be the mode of conveyance necessary to insure its "celerity, certainty, and security," and have the preference over all others, and no others are considered, except for steamboat routes

23 A modification of a bid in any of its essential terms is tantamount to a new bid, and cannot be received so as to interfere with regular competition Making a new bid in proper form is the only way to modify a previous one.

24 Postmasters are cautioned, under penalty of removal, not to sign the approval of the bond of any bidder before the bond is signed by the bidder and his sureties, and not until entirely satisfied of the sufficiency of the sureties.

No postmaster, assistant postmaster, or clerk employed in any post-office, shall be a contractor or concerned in a contract for carrying the mail

25 Postmasters are also liable to dismissal from office for acting as agents of contractors or bidders, with or without compensation, in any business, matter, or thing relating to the mail service. They are the trusted agents of the Department, and cannot consistently act in both capacities

26 In case the route is not fully supplied with pouches, locks and keys, requisition must be made upon the Second Assistant Postmaster General for the same before the date of beginning service

Proposals altered by erasures or interlineations of the route, the service, the yearly pay, or the name of the bidder, will not be considered

CHAIN PUMPS!

THE SUBSCRIBER WOULD RESPECTFULLY announce to the citizens of Decatur and Macon and adjoining counties, that he has secured the EXCLUSIVE RIGHT to

MANUFACTURE AND SELL

MERRILL & BARTLETT'S

Water-Purifying

Rubber Bucket Chain Pump,

And is prepared to furnish said Chain Pumps on short notice

The advantages of this Pump over many others are many The Chain being buttonless, it is much lighter, consequently it is not liable to break, and works much easier The RUBBER BUCKETS which are attached to the Chain will not wear the Tubing, consequently it will last longer than when Metal Buttons are used. It is, positively, ANTI-FREEZING. It is a positive WATER PURIFIER, as each Bucket is constructed with an AIR CHAMBER, which carries a given quantity of pure air into the water, which immediately diffuses through the entire body of water, purifying and cleaning, and rendering it fit for use
